President's Report

President Jim Curry

Well we have survived another year! As a club and as individuals we have had good and not so good things occur. Some of our planned activities were accomplished and some for various reasons didn't happen. Some of our members have had serious health problems, but the majority have enjoyed good health through out 2010. The current economy has affected us all in one manner or another concerning our involvement with our horses and ponies, but our shared enjoyment of our animals has been a strong point through out the year.

I would like to thank all of our members for their support and involvement and wish each and everyone a most happy and successful new year!—Jim

Area VII News

A General Membership Meeting was held on Sunday, January 9, at the Fresh Choice Restaurant in Citrus Heights. Lots of folks drove a long way to be there and deserve a hearty thanks for their support.

Here are some highlights from the meeting:

- Election Results: Kathie Peterson returns as a Director for a term of two years, and new to our Board this year is Vallerie Bell, who will serve a one-year term. Welcome, Vallerie!
- The Annual Schooling Show: will be held at Ranchotel on Sunday, March 27. The class list and entry form will be available on the Area VII web site soon.
- ASPC/AMHR Rated Show: Area VII to host a rated show for ASPC ponies and AMHR minis. Tentative dates are May 21–22. A show committee was formed, headed up by Susan Browning-Wroe and Sharon Housley. Please watch the Area VII web site for more information as things develop.
- Fun Drive/Potluck: Someone needs to volunteer to organize this. This will be discussed again at a future meeting.
- Scurry Clinic: Sherry Ward is actively pursuing the idea of hosting a Scurry clinic for Area VII members.

Our next meeting will be held on Sunday, March 13 at 12 Noon at the Fresh Choice Restaurant, 1001 Helen Power Drive, Vacaville. The meetings are open to all Area VII members—please plan to attend and help plan some fun activities that we can all enjoy. —MN

ASPC/AMHR 2010 Convention Notes

In early November, Maureen Harkcom and myself were off to Little Rock, Arkansas for our much-awaited chance to present the American Driving Society to the membership attending the ASPC/AMHR Convention. We could not have been more anxious to talk to as many people as possible in the upcoming three short days and inform them about the possibilities of the most recent Breed Partnership; the one between ADS and ASPC/AMHR.

Within minutes of arriving, we had people we had not yet met approaching us, eager to visit and let us know how much they appreciated the presence of the ADS. The beautiful ADS booth, seen for the first time at WEG, was set up and stocked. The literature shipped from ADS headquarters disappeared as quickly as we put it out.

After experiencing some initial technical difficulties, and some modifications made to the presentation, Maureen settled in to manning the booth. I was off to attend as many of the Committee meetings as I could, then provide Maureen some brief booth relief so she could personally meet people from other parts of the country. We were pleasantly surprised at the number of people who signed up for new memberships and the interest in learning about the ADS judges' training program.

I had the good fortune to attend the USEF Committee meeting with the guest speaker being Lori Nelson of USEF. The relationship between USEF and ASPC/AMHR is a strong and long standing one. It is our goal to make the relationship between ADS and the ASPC/AMHR as strong and mutually beneficial while emphasizing the benefits of driving to every little equine owner nationwide. We have just begun and there is an amazing amount of work to do.

CDE and Carriage Driving are new to many in the little equine world. The visual presentation Maureen shared was informative and well received. Maureen's talent and skill for growing enthusiasm deserves an A+. Her knowledge of the sport helps every single novice and experienced driver come away with new information and more confidence. The educational driving information available thru ADS publications is invaluable.

While we know that the popular activities are the halter and pleasure driving classes of the breed shows, it is our goal that more and more people will be attracted to the excitement, camaraderie and year-round events associated with Combined Driving. With ADS's influence, participation in Carriage Driving classes will grow. The history and traditions will be better understood and we will become more informed so we can compete and be judged appropriately, as true carriage class exhibitors should be.

The marketing opportunities to have more little equine out there in front of a vast, all breed culture is too good to pass up. Talking with many people at Convention planted the seeds in my mind for ways of exposing the pleasure of driving little equine to more and more people, not just people who compete; but people who want to be driving at country events, in parades, on the beach, sharing their passion with the elderly or learning at clinics.

We already have available to us the ASPC/AMHR Amateur Excellence Awards Program and the Amateur Companion Horse Program, thanks to Karen Shaw and Janice Bryant. I cannot say enough about these programs. Recognizing the achievers who want to be more active is good for everyone. Amateurs, the life blood of our passion, can enjoy being recognized for "doing things" and/or having their little equine friends awarded for the thousands of hours they give back in immeasurable ways. All you need to do is sign up and begin tracking your activities.

Our trip to Convention was worth every penny. Understanding the process better, seeing how rules are added and modified, the contacts we made, the knowledge we gained and shared, and having a chance to dialogue one on one with folks who may not understand the issues we struggle with living so far west, felt like really good progress. I would encourage everyone to begin thinking about attending Convention in November 2011 in Portland, Oregon. Consider having your farm, your interests and your little equine be more visible at Convention. Don't let this opportunity slip by. Attend, be part of the activities and contribute to the process. I encourage you to talk to your Directors, talk to potential candidates and, before Convention, ask to see the Proposed Rule Changes submitted to the various committees. As a member, you will have a right to vote and either inspire new rules or defeat bad ideas.

If you have questions or want to share your thoughts, please feel free to contact me. We can turn these tough times into exciting ones if we work together.

Larry and Raindrop

Mimi & my “bucket list” happily turned into a “Vermont True Life Adventure.” John ’n Larry had our visit planned to a T—including a daily visit with pony Raindrop. She is a celebrity, being the only pony in the stable.

We visited Stowe Mountain ski area and Dog Mountain to see miles and miles of fall color. The Justin Morgan Horse Farm visit was very high on the bucket list, and not disappointing.

We visited the Cross Ranch to see the Black Canadian draft horses and ponies and mini donkeys. At Moose Pond Farm, we had the pleasure of a carriage ride through the colorful landscape, pulled by their Blackstout Canadians, and a spectacular lunch—talk about a true life adventure!

We had a jazz night at the Flynn Center and one evening to see “Death of a Salesman” with Christopher Lloyd. Mimi biked by Lake Champlain. We got to visit John ’n Larry’s new townhouse to round out our trip of a lifetime. Thank you, Boys! We miss you!—Pat

Growing the Little Equine Excitement

The numbers are growing and we can keep the momentum going. I personally witnessed it the last Saturday in November. At the Western Whips and Wheels, second in their series of four Arena Driving Trials in Oregon, there were five American Shetlands competing. It was a thrill to say the least. The Northwest Miniatures are always well represented because the organizers are doing an outstanding job of making these opportunities available at great facilities. The off season consistency couldn't be better for our little friends.

Some other exciting news is the growing enthusiasm for the American Shetland Pony Club/American Miniature Horse Registry/American Show Pony Registry's Amateur Companion/Excellence Program. As part of the Triple A Awards, this program was established for amateurs who have little equine and may not compete in the breed show ring. They can participate by being an ASPC/AMHR Amateur member, exhibit their Shetlands and Miniatures at other venues and earn amateur awards receiving recognition as high as a Supreme Amateur. The recognition is solely based on participation not on placings or scores, nor is there a limit on the number of awards you can achieve.

The Coordinators had the foresight to include CDEs and their related events in the list of recognized opportunities as well as pleasure shows, private carriage drives, clinics and a multitude of publicity events which promote our little equine.

I encourage everyone to check it out by going to www.shetlandminiature.com, then click on the link for Amateur Shows. The forms you need are easily downloaded online.

Getting signed up early with the new year just around the corner will assure as many events as possible to be included in your journey for this very special recognition.

News from Jim Curry

Overall I have been busy this year and 2011 looks to be much the same way. We had a successful AMHR National Show with wins in the ring and sales of horses. I judged the AMHA World Show, filmed a video on halter showing which has sold well, was honored with a plaque awarded at the ASPC/AMHR national meeting and judges seminar for 20 plus years of service as a judge, and I was selected as a 2011 Shetland Congress judge.

As our area director, I attended the ASPC/AMHR Convention. It was well attended and much was accomplished. Some highlights were a change in the editor of The Journal, elimination of the post of Director of Marketing, selection of Des Moines, Iowa as the site of the 2011 Shetland Congress, election of Pat Sanders as our new President, and the awarding of People Hall of Fame plaques to Larry Parnell and Marvin McCabe.

I was invited to judge the New Zealand Miniature National Show, but decided it was not feasible to do so at this time. I have judged there before and would have enjoyed the trip. I conducted a Driving Seminar on the various driving classes for the Norcal M.H.C. in conjunction with their meeting and year-end high point awards. I will travel to Oklahoma City for the Color Breed Council and to Morton, Illinois for the spring Board of Directors meeting. I have also signed several judging contracts for shows in 2011.

I have two foals due and hope to show Splash to finish his Hall of Fame status as a miniature. He already has his Hall of Fame in ASPC. All in all, it looks like another busy year. —Jim

Step-N-Stone Ranch News

Here's wishing everyone a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR! I don't know about the rest of you but we sure will be delighted to see not only the end of 2010 but whole first decade of the 21st Century!

Been a quiet winter so far—and let's hope that it stays that way!!! And as for Spring...well, we hadn't planned on having any foals again this year, but Sandy and Piper had other ideas. Between the pair of them they managed to get the gate that separated them open and yeah, Piper appears to be in foal. Sigh. Don't know if we're happy or depressed. It should be a good cross, Sandy offers refinement and Piper has already proved her worth as a brood mare—all three of her offspring are HOF. When a healthy, beautiful foal arrives next year I know we'll be thrilled—even if not planned.

Speaking of Sandy—Tom Garcia, from the Watsonville area, came to visit and went away with not only Sundance Cody's Sandstorm N.T.A. but he also bought the black pinto gelding Ashley Edwards used to show, Step-N-Stone's Fancy Hot-N-Tot.

We were thrilled this fall when, at the Santa Cruz County Fair, Regina Nelson, showing Step-N-Stone's Silver Feather, finished him not only to the Halter HOF, but grabbed those final points to finish him to the Pleasure Driving HOF! Good job, Regina!

All our best to everyone!

News from Whisper Equestrian Center

I figured out a wonderful use of the ranch news in our newsletter. I look back and see where I left off and then try to figure out what I have been doing since the last newsletter.

Things have not been quiet at Whisper Equestrian Center. Winter hit before the ASPC convention this year but there was a fall back time-change on the return trip to California and I hate getting up in the dark. The good news is that the days are now getting longer again. I would not mind the dark if I could sleep in but that is not possible.

We have been very busy with our community involvement this December. For the fourth year in a row, Fog Ranch ponies and Whisper Equestrian Center participated in Share Your Holiday. This is a big fundraising event for the Salvation Army and is televised on the local KSBW television station.

They are an NBC affiliate. We usually bring our Shetland pony Mare-A-Gold, but this year we were asked to bring an additional pony, so we brought an additional Shetland, Holly. We came early and left late with lots of pony pets in between. The local paper was at the event and to our surprise we made the front page of the local paper with a big picture of the ponies as well as Mimi Woolem and myself. We were thrilled. There in big print were the words "American Shetland pony." We have also done a follow interview and they want to come in the summer for more pictures. What a great opportunity!

After our Shetlands finish their swimming lessons we will be starting them in driving. We have some new show prospects and also a few for sale. We are looking forward to a better 2011 and hope you and yours had a great Holiday.

Please consider Whisper Equestrian Center for your training needs. I have a new mini cart I am just dying to use and your mini could be the first. Yes, I do have some minis but you know the story about the cobbler and his kid's shoes.

May you have many happy miles of driving in 2011.—Julie

Fantasia Farm Training Center News

Hope you all enjoyed the wonderful holidays with your loved ones. Where does the time go? It seems like just yesterday we were embarking on the 2010 show season and here we are again. A huge thank you and my love to my clients and to all the people who made last year so enjoyable and without whom it would never have happened: Bob and Eric Housley, David Torrey, Bob Kane, my vet Michelle Beko, my farrier Phil Tresenrider, Sarah Hutter and the wonderful people who clipped for me at Nationals and Worlds - Melinda Doan, Cary Campbell, and Tammy Cutburth. I also would like to take a moment to express my appreciation for the great neighbors I had at R Nationals: the Mccarthy family, Bruce Abbot, Cary Campbell and her very fun group of clients, my wonderful forever friend Lyn Yung and his clients especially the incredibly generous Lois Drury and her husband Don who kept the R only horses at their fabulous place in Bowie while we were at A Worlds, and the most gracious and hospitable Star Lake/Pickpocket gang for the best meals ever. I know that I am forgetting to acknowledge people who are very important to me and will be kicking myself later. If I inadvertently left you out I hope you will forgive me.

I would also like to take a moment to publicly acknowledge Michele Nelson for all she does for all of us. I am so grateful for how beautifully she executes my ideas for ads—and where would I be without her beautiful pictures to put in my ads? Not to mention her amazing patience with my last minute decisions!

We were so blessed in 2010 with safe travels and success in the show ring and are more than ready to start this year's adventures. Our plan is to once again go to AMHR Nationals and AMHA Worlds. We do still have a few spaces available if you would like to join us. My clients also have beautiful horses and/or ponies for sale—show and breeding stock—several of these can be purchased with a guaranteed place on our show string.

On an entirely different note, I think it is so exciting that Betty Teal is the new editor of The Journal and can't wait to see what she does with it.

Looking forward to seeing you all again soon and hope you all have the best year ever. —Sharon Housley

Radulovich Farms Good News

Winter is finally here and we had a couple of broken water pipes out in the pasture. I think we will wait to fix them until spring after the cold freeze has stopped. My 2 colts are all fuzzy and look like a mini buffalo herd. I am expecting 2 foals this spring and hoping all goes well. My beagle, "Tink," hates the cold weather and would rather be inside by the warm fire than out helping me feed the horses.

Stay warm, stay dry, —Penny

Winter 2011

Vermont Update

from John Killacky and Larry Connolly

I was recently asked to blog for the National Association of Media Arts Center on Leading Creatively; particularly how we teach and learn from each other at all stages in our careers. Thought I would share with my pony family in Area VII:

Right now I am learning from a 400-pound animal with the brain of a three-year old child, as I train a Shetland pony how to pull a cart. For a prey animal whose instinct is to flee, this can be a daunting task. For a paraplegic like myself, there are added complications.

My equine pursuits give me something completely different than my arts world identity, which is sublime. Here I am a beginner, learning everything through the advice of other horse people, from teenagers to one amazing woman in her eighties. I am also blessed to work with a very patient, experienced, and adept trainer. My CEO/Executive Director self has no gravitas here. In fact, we never discuss one's day job; all conversation is though and about our animals.

Being a novice in mid-life and acquiring new skills at the bottom of a steep learning curve is so rewarding. Laughter, rather than embarrassment, at failure and learning from mistakes catapults improvement. My competitive self is satisfied with a training session well done, thrilled that we each, Fog Ranch's Pacific Raindrop and me, have done our best we could do for that day.

In working with my pony, I must first understand the world through her eyes, her smells, her experiences, her fears, and her relationships. Only then can we begin to communicate and make progress. Nothing can be imposed from a human perspective; I must first meet her on her terms. And what we learn together on one side; often has to start all over again when we change directions.

Begin, and begin over again in a mutually reinforcing state of parity. Meeting colleagues where they are seems like a pretty good idea to bring back into the office each morning, after I finish mucking her stall of course!—John

P.S. Larry and I miss you all very much and send best wishes to all of you for the new year.

We raise ponies to do more than trot big. We raise ponies to do everything BIG. In the ponies we develop, we strive for

- American Shetlands bred with size, stamina and dispositions for Combined Driving Events.
- American Shetlands bred with elegance and presence for the Breed Shows.
- American Shetlands bred to be your life partner in whatever you love doing.

We work with our ponies, we know their star quality abilities and when you own one, we will salute you and recognize you and your pony.

BECOME A PARTICIPANT IN THE 300 CLUB

Steve and Diane are pleased to announce their support of the American Shetland Pony Club Amateur Excellence/Amateur Companion Horse Program. Overlook Farm is offering a $300 Incentive Award to any ASPC registered Shetland bred by Steve or Diane Zmolek, who achieves 300 points under the rules of the Amateur Companion Horse Program beginning with the 2011 season. You can download the Rules and Forms by going to the ASPC Website and clicking on the links for the Amateur Shows. We are excited to offer you our support, encouragement and publicity as you make progress in this fabulous program. We wish you our best! We have several ponies for sale to fit every lifestyle or interest.
